Call for Papers

2025 will mark the 20th anniversary of «Rocinante», which was founded in 2005. To celebrate this anniversary, the next issue of the journal will be devoted to a monographic issue entitled In the Footsteps of Rocinante. Themes and Figures in the History of Iberian Philosophy that will gather the fruits of the seminar cycle of the same name held in Naples at the ISPF Library from 7 October 2024 to 20 January 2025.

Authors interested in participating with their own contribution to the aforementioned monographic issue are invited to send a title and a short abstract (300-500 words) by 28 February 2025 to the following addresses:

rocinante.cnr@gmail.com

armando.mascolo@ispf.cnr.it

Contributions, which must be no longer than 50.000 characters (notes and spaces included) for essays and articles and 25.000 characters (notes and spaces included) for critical notes and reviews, must be sent in their final version no later than 31 May 2025 to the same email addresses. Essays will only be published if positively evaluated. Authors will receive a response to this by 30 July 2025. Authors are advised to strictly adhere to the Editorial Guidelines that can be downloaded from the journal website.
